This masterclass on Boardroom Dynamics will help you to fully understand the boardroom environment. Ensuring that an organisation is well run means that you need to be a 'critical friend' and challenge the management team.

To do this effectively you need to use a combination of your strategic expertise and business acumen, and your technical / professional skills as well as have an emotional intelligence to read the boardroom environment.

It is key to also understand how you collaborate whilst you remain independent, authentic and supportive.

Content

In this section we will look at and present on the following topics:

- The boardroom dynamic
- Board EI and board personality risks
- Being confident
- Your 'fit' is part of the dynamic
- The boardroom environment
- The role of the chair
- The dynamic between the CEO and chair
- Board collaboration and fair process
- When there is conflict and crisis

Who should attend this webinar?

The workshop is suited to anyone with an interest in understanding more about how sitting on a board is more than knowing your legal duties and responsibilities. This workshop encourages the participants to think about how the individuals on the board collaborate, influence and discuss the decisions being made. It also will challenge participants to think about how they operate as board members.
